

LOCAL NEWS

The Five Minute Read

Elevate New England celebrated the achievements of 77 students who graduated high school during a June ceremony held at Shedd Park Pavilion. Students Ethan Ty and Rayssa De Oliveira were each awarded a $5,000 Rhea Gordon Scholarship to continue their education.

Elevate New England celebrated the achievements of 77 students who graduated high school during a June ceremony held at Shedd Park Pavilion. Students Ethan Ty and Rayssa De Oliveira were awarded the Rhea Gordon Scholarship of $5,000 each to continue their education. (Courtesy Elevate New England)

$5K scholarships for Elevate New England students

LOWELL — Elevate New England celebrated the achievements of 77 students who graduated high school during a June ceremony held at Shedd Park Pavilion. Students Ethan Ty and Rayssa De Oliveira were each awarded a $5,000 Rhea Gordon Scholarship to continue their education.

“I’m eternally grateful for the support and guidance I received from Elevate program and I will definitely maintain my connection and keep in touch with my teacher-mentors,” Ty said.

De Oliveira said she was “Very grateful for my mentors who never fail to go the extra mile.”

The nonprofit works to build long-term, life-changing relationships with New England’s urban youth, equipping them to thrive and contribute to their communities. For more information, email Rhea@ElevateNewEngland.org or visit ElevateNewEngland.org.